

PROTECT OUR PENALTY RATES

Alicia is an ASU member.

She's a shift worker in an animal welfare organisation and relies on penalty rates to make ends meet.

PROTECT OUR PENALTY RATES

OUR WEEKENDS ARE UNDER THREAT!

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AND EMPLOYERS WANT TO CUT PENALTY RATES.

- ✘ Thousands of Australian Services Union members miss out on nights, weekends and public holidays with family and friends to work in call centres, repair essential infrastructure, keep local services available or staff our airports.
- ✘ They along with millions of other shift workers deserve to be fairly compensated. For many, this compensation is how they make ends meet.
- ✘ Losing penalty rates would be a massive pay cut for millions of Australians and a loss of customers for all of the businesses they currently spend their hard earned money in.
